Lucy Alexander

Lucy Alexander is a journalist and newsreader, best known for her news reading roles on London Tonight, the ITV News Channel and Sky News. She has also presented the IT and Technology series eLife on CNBC Europe.

Lucy has worked with various corporate clients including Sony, Samsung, BT, Nestle and Renault – chairing debates and hosting conferences.

She is well briefed on current affairs and is adept at rapidly digesting information, analysing it and making it understandable to the viewer or audience.

Lucy has a degree in Modern Languages from Bristol University and speaks confident French, Spanish and conversational Portuguese.