Raffaela Rein

Raffaela Rein is the CEO and Co-Founder of CareerFoundry/ The UX School, Europe's leading online school for tech careers, specifically for User Experience (UX) Design.

Raffaela graduated from the University of Durham in Finance before starting her career as an Investment Strategist for BlackRock in London. She went on to launch three e-commerce companies for Rocket Internet in APAC as well as for Axel Springer. After she noticed a huge need for professional training for the digital age, she launched CareerFoundry, an online school for UX/UI Design, Web & Mobile Development.

Raffaela is dedicated to educating the next generation of digital talent and to helping companies become category winners by creating a world-class user experience.

CareerFoundry has raised $5m to date, employs 50 people and serves customers in 85 countries worldwide.