
Pavel Sfera

Pavel Sfera is the world's leading Bono impersonator/ tribute & performance artist. On multiple occasions, Pavel has been a stand in double for projects on behalf for Bono himself including a Vogue Magazine photo shoot.

As a Bono double, he has been bringing a U2 experience to fans around the world for more than 2 decades with solo Bono appearances & with U2tribute concerts up to 40,000. Pavel is also a dedicated humanitarian using his knowledge and talents for various projects nationally and internationally.

Pavel has volunteered for decades working with orphanages in many countries, disaster relief organizations and now engaged with organizations mitigating effects of climate change surround regenerative and alternative agriculture.

He has been asked to do a TEDx talk on the topic of "Personal Humanitarianism". He has also been a guest speaker at the Nikola Tesla Conference held in New York City highlighting the importance of engaging in humanitarian work.