
Dominic Lau

Dom Lau is an award winning television & radio presenter who made his debut on network television in 2005 & is now one of the most recognised faces on TV in Asia.

He is currently known for being Official Ring and Cage announcer for ONE Championship; Asia's largest sports media property and largest martial arts promotion in the region. Currently, ONE Championship events are aired in over 140 countries most notably the US on TNT of Warner Media. His distinct, baritone voice and physical presence makes Dom Lau's persona instantly recognisable.

Having been referred to as "Asia's Ryan Seacrest", he formerly hosted radio chart show Asia Pop 40 which is part of the Eon Syndicated Media Group as well as E! News Asia, which airs on the E! Entertainment channel. Prior to this, Dom got his start hosting a variety of shows for music network Channel [V] International as well as its sister channels STAR Movies & STAR World - all part of the Fox International Channels platform.

Knowledgeable in the entertainment industry, particularly film and music, Dom has extensive experience reporting on-location from various events around the world ranging from album launches, movie premiers to live events such as concerts and fashion shows. Highlights of Dom's career has been to host "Live From The Red Carpet" at both the 79th & 81st Annual Academy Awards in Los Angeles as well as the 53rd & 54th Grammy Awards not to mention the 2014 & 2015 ARIA Awards Red Carpet in Sydney, Australia.

As such, he is often called on to interview A-list celebrities: from actors to musicians, fashion designers to sports personalities.

Other notable mentions include hosting work for popular weekly football shows "Tiger Goals on Sunday" & "Goalzone" on Singapore's SingTel on-air platform, Mio TV.

Dom's charismatic persona also leads him to regularly emcee live events for both corporate & social events throughout S.E. Asia making him one of the regions most sought after hosts.