Keyu Jin

Dr. Keyu Jin is a professor of economics at the LSE, where she researches and teaches International Macroeconomics, technology competition and the Chinese Economy.

She is the author of the critically acclaimed book The New China Playbook: Beyond Socialism and Capitalism, which was selected to be a Financial Times must read of 2023. She is also a board member of Richemont, Ainnovation, a member of China Finance 40, and a member of the economic council for the state of Qatar. She has contributed op-eds to the New York Times, Financial Times, Wall street Journal, Time magazine and many others.

Keyu Jin has taught at Yale and Berkeley in the past, and has a BA, MA, PhD from Harvard University. She was named a Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum in 2014, and also served on the board of Credit Suisse.