RAND HINDI

- Entrepreneur in Artificial Intelligence and Privacy; Founder of Snips.ai

Dr Rand Hindi is an entrepreneur and data scientist. He is the founder and CEO of Snips, the first GDPR-compliant Voice platform.

Rand Hindi started coding at the age of 10, founded a Social Network at 14 and a web agency at 15 before getting into Machine Learning at 18 and starting a PhD at 21.

He has been elected as a TR35 by the MIT Technology Review, as a "30 under 30" by Forbes, and is a lecturer at Sciences Po in Paris. He was previously a member of the French Digital Council where he focused on AI and Privacy issues.

Rand Hindi holds a BSc in Computer Science and a PhD in Bioinformatics from University College London (UCL), as well as two graduate degrees from Singularity University in Silicon Valley and THNK in Amsterdam.

Topics

- Artificial Intelligence
- Entrepreneurship
- Future
- Technology